HITLER REMAINS SILENT

There apparently is nothing new to keep the Red army from cutting off the Germans in Odessa and the Crimea, which would wipe out the last German threat in the Black sea sector, eliminate the last chance of a strong stand behind the Bug river and virtually end the Russo-German war in the Ukraine. The capture of Kherson is acknowledged to be the key to these probable results. A German debacle as bad as Stalin-grad is in the making.

There is no glory in Germany's retreat. The invaders are being scourged from a country in which they can claim no rights. They did not even pretend to go into Russia as liberators; they were conquerors, oppressors and looters. They are being routed as trespassers, entitled to no mercy.

In whatever German sagas may come from World war II there will be no heroic passages on the Russian campaign. Even victory scarcely could have made Hitler's insane adventure glorious, and defeat has made it a shameful, sordid, fearful thing. German soldiers found only defeat and misery in Russia. Leningrad is gone in the north, Odessa is tottering in the south, the scourge is in retreat and Hitler remains silent. There is nothing left for Hitler to say.

BACKSEAT RATIONING

OPA's announcement of a 33 percent cut in gasoline rations in all states west of the Alleghenies, effective, March 22, will produce a tremendous outburst of backseat rationing. Scarcely a motorist will be found who cannot point out to Administrator Bowles and his advisers where and how they have made a number of serious mistakes.

It is a safe bet, in fact, that so many mistakes and grievances will be enumerated that if Mr. Bowles and his advisers actually could hear them all they would have to throw up their hands in despair and call off gasoline rationing entirely. Anyone who has heard a sampling of the complaints of motorists about their lot hardly can help but be convinced that they should be given all the gasoline they want—immediately.

But the fact remains that on March 22, holders of A cards will go on two gallons a week, complaints to the contrary notwithstanding. They will not go far, but they will manage somehow and some of them even may grant of the record that OPA and petroleum administration for war, which keeps track of the gasoline supply, may be motivated by something more serious than a desire to keep them from enjoying the use of their automobiles.

THE BUFFER STATES

It is uncertain how long German diplomacy can sustain what German militarism no longer can guarantee in the Balkans. Finland's refusal to set a precedent by dropping out of the war at the northern extremity of the chain of buffer states lying between Russia and German-held Europe suggests the liquidation of the diplomatic front may require actual military pressure.

Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and—more remotely—Greece, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia have been drawn to the threshold of decisions which will determine their courses for generations to come. In no case are they free to make these decisions without direct interference from one or both of the two strong powers between which they are held helpless.

Germany's dreams and plans of integration have failed. The future of the buffer states at the hands of Soviet Russia is the great uncertainty of the moment, only mitigated in very small part by the prospect of intervention from elsewhere. Great Britain, for instance, no more can reach Poland now to make its influence felt there than it could in 1939. British interest in the Balkans, however keen and however expressed, scarcely can match the fact that a Russian army is fighting in massive force on their borders.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, March 17

ALTHOUGH THERE is much stimulus for active and determined efforts to obtain lofty ambitions, and objectives of great expansion and scope, yet there are signs of all sorts of tests, trials, disappointments and obstacles, which may make a confused, complex and discouraging state of affairs. The obstructions seem to arise from many diverse sources, with public, community, and cooperative support withheld from high influential places. There may be open as well as subtle and sinister opposition. Yet the mind is well equipped with shrewdness, insight and flexibility to revise and accomplish worthy objectives. Be cautious, vigilant and shun unnecessary risks of all kinds.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of complex, difficult and confused issues, with many phases of obstruction, obstacle and opposition both open and under cover, and with little support or encouragement from superiors, elders, or public community authorities. A policy of going it alone, with confidence in the soundness and integrity of ambitious objectives assisted by a shrewd and forceful application of a fine and sagacious mentality may eventuate in some measure of success. Avoid risks of all kinds, physical as well as financial. Shun quarrels and impetuous and turbulent tactics.

A child born on this day may have advanced ambitions, with much ability, sagacity, and vision, which may lead it through many dangers and reversals, if it will avert many risks with health and funds as well.

BLACK MARKET BLUES

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Office of Price Administration has the black market miseries. Fear of the spread of this kind of wartime racketeering colors almost every decision OPA makes.

Few realize it, but not since the days of bootlegging has racketeering been so widespread as it is today in the black markets. The authority for this is none other than an FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Although careful to point out that there actually were fewer crimes reported in the United States last year than previously, Hoover emphasizes that the types of crime are changing. Gangs are on the upswing for the first time since repeal, and the ordinarily law-abiding public is cooperating with them. Both Hoover and OPA Director Chester Bowles point out that black markets couldn't exist without cooperation of the public.

BOWLES' report on the black market activities last year is revealing. Although OPA has less than 3,000 investigators—not even an average of one county—investigated 650,000 cases of alleged violations last year.

The No. 1 black market headache is, of course, gasoline. Last year almost half of the black market convictions were for illegal dealings in gasoline or gas ration coupons. OPA estimates that almost 2,500,000 gallons a day are being moved by black marketeers and that if the racket could be stopped, every driver in the United States would have enough gas to travel 15 additional miles a month.

But Hoover warns that the liquor black market may surpass all others unless the trend can be curbed. The old gang methods of highjacking liquor stores by the truckload; robbing warehouses; and selling cut and bootleg liquor at exorbitant prices, are with us again. Even speakeasies are back in some sections, but now they are called "cheat joints." Authorities believe that only the rationing of sugar and the difficulty in obtaining metals has prevented illegal distilling at least on a scale comparable to the earlier days of prohibition.

Other commodities are also included. A black market in oranges was smashed in New York City, where the racketeers had upped the price to $1 a dozen.

Washington had a black market in potatoes (as did other cities) that had the Congressmen stewing. Here, as elsewhere, we also have seen a black market in onions.

Practically nationwide have been the black markets in meats. The illegal market in nylon hosiery that has upped the retail price to between $4 and $5 a pair has also been a coast-to-coast scandal.

Both Hoover and Bowles have pledged that their agencies will continue the fight. Black marketeers would not exist, they say, were it not for consumer who have no regard for their patriotic duties and are willing to pay the prices.

We are liable to have a generation of uneducated men and educated women in the post-war world.—Dr. Roswell Gray Ham, president Mount Holyoke college.

THE RED CARNATION

by BURTON STEVENSON

CHAPTER EIGHT

still don't believe he shot him," said Tony.

"You? I suppose you think I'm a little Miss Innocence popped off."

"That's absurd, Jim. But I can't McKibben shooting himself. It's out of character. Besides, why did he?"

"We'll find the motive—give us," said Duffy cheerfully. "May-tomorrow is tomorrow."

"He'll know the word. Look here, I'd like to look over his apartment."

"Okay. I'll tell the guard to let him in. The body is over at the morgue. If you want to see it. If you turn up anything, let me know."

They nodded and turned back to mail, but he read it without seeing it.

"Why had that lovely girl gone up McKibben's place with him? Why was she with him at all? Why had she looked so frightened?"

He finished his mail and ran down his file, but he could find no letter signed "Wellwisher."

Just then Clarence came in with another parcel in his hand.

"What is it this time?" Tony asked.

"Locks like flowers, huh," Clarence grinned.

"Flowers? Well, open it," Clarence did so and disclosed a bunch of magnificent white carnations with a single red one in the bunch, standing out like a spot of red.

"Heath's the card, huh," Clarence said, and passed it over.

McKibben's name, John Derwent McKibben, was engraved across its face. On the back was written:

Jack McKibben.

Tony examined the box in which the carnations had come. It bore the address of a well-known Fifth Avenue florist. And then he remembered the jibe he had launched McKibben about the white carnation in his buttonhole. Evidently "Jack" was just getting back at him, but it was macabre getting the flowers, hours after he was dead.

The columnist slipped the card to his billfold, and phoned the florist. He asked the city editor to Garrity "to see me here at my place around four-thirty."

"All right, Tony. Say, Hadley's asked pink about that little forest in your column today."

"I'm glad he's pleased about something!"

"So am I," said the city editor, and hung up.

Fifteen minutes later, Tony was ringing up Fifth Avenue in a taxi. He got out in front of the florist's shop, went in, and asked to see the manager.

"I'm Antony Bigelow," he said. "You sent a bunch of carnations to my place a while ago with McKibben's card. I suppose you know he's dead."

"Yes, I just saw it in the paper," said the manager. "It was quite a shock. He has been a customer for years."

"Always carnations?"

"Always white carnations for himself. Other things, of course, for other people."

"I wonder if you'd mind telling me when you got the order for the carnations? Here's the card that came with them," and Tony produced it.

The other glanced at it. "Come

CAR SALES—Persons selling or contemplating selling their automobiles, must secure a certificate of surrender of "gas" rations before transfer or car title can be made by the county clerk of courts.

"The hand wasn't clutching it?" Tony pointed out. "It was his pistol, I suppose?"

"Yes—a Colt thirty-eight automatic. The number checked with his permit."

"How long has he had a permit?"

"Only about a month. He said in his application that there had been an attempt to break into this place and that he needed it for protection."

"That only proves that he loaded it, not that he fired it," Tony pointed out. "It was his pistol, I suppose?"

Army Depot Employee Gets Salvage Cheap

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Rep. Cochran (D-Mo.) told the House today preliminary Army reports disclose a civilian employee at the Ogden, Utah, Army depot purchased for $15 from salvage officers 27,000 over-age dry cell batteries for which the government had paid $17,990.

A preliminary investigation has been made by the inspector general's office of the Ninth Service command and a more extensive inquiry is under way, Cochran said. A report shows no fraud or collusion.

As a result of the preliminary inquiry, he said, changes have been instituted for enforcement of existing regulations governing sale and disposal of salvaged property.

Cochran said a statement furnished him in connection with the preliminary investigation showed the batteries, all over age and unsuitable for military use, were received at the depot in April, 1943. J. W. Harbertson asked for permission from the salvage officer to buy the batteries which were about to be destroyed. He offered $15 and the amount was accepted, Cochran said, after the salvage officer obtained authority from Ninth Service command headquarters to make the sale.

Cochran said the report also showed Harbertson purchased 23,587

20 U. S. Transports Shot Down by Own Ground Batteries

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Twenty U. S. army transport planes were shot down by Allied anti-aircraft fire when they came within range immediately after a German bombing attack in Sicily, Sgt. Jack Foisie, correspondent for Stars and Stripes, has disclosed.

Addressing the Commonwealth club here yesterday in an army-approved speech, Sgt. Foisie said the Sicilian invasion was as "near a perfect campaign as could wish for" but for the "unfortunate incident."

"Twenty C-47 transports with 18 men each, following in the wake of German bombers, were knocked down by Allied gunfire," Foisie said. The correspondent observed very few ships were made in the successful African landings.

One was the "Washington" around Casablanca even as the forces were still five miles off shore," he said. "Talk about tipping off the enemy!"

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary of War Stimson acknowledged today there have been instances in the war of American forces mistaking their own planes and shooting them down.

Asked at a press conference about a statement by a correspondent of the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, that United States Navy gunners in the Sicilian campaign shot down 20 American C-47 transports by mistake just after the Naval forces had undergone a heavy Nazi aerial attack, Stimson said.

"There have been instances, in the hurry and confusion of night operations, of one set of our forces mistaking our fliers for the enemy," He commented he did not recognize the figures mentioned in the instance described by the Stars and Stripes reporter, but said there was a similar instance in Sicily "a long time ago."

Asked if he would request a report on this instance, the secretary replied it probably had been reported some time ago and added he could not "ask about what every soldier tells about when he comes home."

YANK FLIERS HIT WEWAK 4TH DAY

A 350-mile segment of Japan's Southwest Pacific defense line was ripped with a 500-ton air smash, Gen. Douglas MacArthur communique today while American fliers in the Central Pacific picked out a new target—Orluk atoll in the eastern Carolines.

From Wewak, New Guinea, on the west to Bougainville, Solomon Islands, on the east, Southwest Pacific airmen had a field day, blasting bomb-cratered Japanese supply bases, starting fires and destroying vital ground installations.

For the fourth straight day, Wewak, main enemy supply and air base in northern New Guinea, was pounded by Allied fliers Monday. Eight interceptors were shot down when they tried to dull the 174-ton blow. More than 600 tons of explosives have been poured into Wewak's defenses during the four-day assault.

The communique reported other heavy raids on enemy positions, including a 68-ton blast at Rabaul, New Britain, and a 123-ton strike supporting ground troops repelling suicidal Japanese lunges at Empress Augusta bay, Bougainville.

Income Tax Offices Deluged With Mail

The annual income tax headache was over today for most Ohioans, but in the state's Internal Revenue offices workers still were busy handling mountains of returns mailed at the last minute.

Collectors estimated the last of the returns would not be in before Friday night. Mailed returns had to be postmarked before last midnight. Those who failed to make a return by the deadline are subject to a five per cent penalty for the first month and an additional five per cent—up to a maximum of 25 per cent—for each additional month, plus six per cent interest.

In Cleveland, R. J. Caddy, assistant internal revenue cashier, said over 1,000,000 returns had been filed. Payments up to Tuesday night were $123,981,482.

Cincinnati payments were estimated at $62,988,004.

Radio Programs

Radio's quiz era seems to be still in the ascendancy. The new ones outnumber the departing Q and A programs.

The Blue is getting ready to present three more. One of the additions is for Saturdays at 6 p. m. using Benay Venuta and Fred Uttal as M.C.'s. The second new series to be conducted on Tuesday nights at 6 by Milton Berle falls in the class of audience participation. The third is the Joe E. Brown quiz for Thursday nights at 9:30.

In 1935 a Russia glider pilot made 300 loops, said to be a world record.

It seldom freezes on the island of Sicily.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FAK-TEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FAKTEETH at any drug store.

AUSTRALIAN LEADER LAUDS MacARTHUR

(By Associated Press)
CANBERRA, Australia, March 16.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied commander-in-chief in the Southwest Pacific, today won high praise from Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin.

In a broadcast arranged by the U. S. Office of War Information in honor of the second anniversary of MacArthur's arrival in Australia from Britain, Curtin said:

"The name 'MacArthur' stands even higher today in Australia than two years ago, when his arrival provided such a tonic to our people who, while unafraid of what might be in store for them, were nevertheless greatly encouraged by what it meant for Australia in fighting men and supplies from America."

Upholds Board Action

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 16.—Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans yesterday upheld the East Liverpool board of education's right to suspend school janitors for disciplinary purposes, when he dismissed a suit for $56 in wages filed by Jurlee E. Sheets, president of the Janitors' union, for two weeks' idleness, last July.

SENTENCES DOCTOR TO 16-YEAR TERM

Detroit Obstetrician Is One of Eight Held in Espionage Conspiracy

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, March 16.—Federal Judge Edward J. Moineau today sentenced Dr. Fred W. Thomas, Detroit obstetrician convicted of espionage, to 16 years in federal prison.

Dr. Thomas, one of eight persons indicted on charges of espionage conspiracy, was convicted two weeks ago by a federal court jury. Six pleaded guilty and are awaiting sentencing.

Charges against the eighth, Bertrand Stuart Hoffman, a merchant marine seaman, were dismissed at his trial on the ground he was mentally incapable of understanding the charge.

Dr. Thomas was accused of supplying espionage information on war production and troop movements and ingredients for the manufacture of invisible ink to Miss Grace Buchanan-Dineen, described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as leader of the espionage ring.

YANK TROOPS

nants remained in the town itself was not immediately determined. It was known there were many underground hideaways in the town.

At any rate, the Germans were obeying Hitler's orders that this key stronghold on the way to Rome must be held at all costs.

In the northwest hills where Allied infantry was penetrating the Germans still held many strong-points immediately adjacent to the town. The enemy was reported fighting stubbornly from these points, many of which are concrete emplacements reinforced by steel plate.

In the 2,500 sorties sent against Cassino and other targets in Italy yesterday, the Allied air forces lost six planes, it was announced officially.

Although Fifth army forces on the beachhead threw back first enemy efforts to regain the two enemy strong-points taken yesterday southwest of Carroceto, reports today said fighting still was going on under harassing enemy artillery fire.

The Germans were said to be using a new "grappling device" in an effort to explode Allied mines along the beachhead perimeter.

Some prisoners were taken in patrol actions on both the Fifth army and Eighth army fronts.

Allied aircraft made far-ranging attacks yesterday, bombing Durazzo harbor in Albania, ammunition dumps north of Rome and small ports along the Italian west coast, the railroad west of Terni, above Rome.

This morning's attack on Sofia, the sixth time Allied planes have bombed the Bulgarian capital, was carried out by RAF Wellingtons.

ITALY GOALS

ited in extent and purpose but are improving communications, particularly between India and China, and have demonstrated the excellence of American-trained Chinese troops using American equipment.

In the Southwest Pacific—Allied forces are completing encirclement of the Bismarck sea and Japanese losses are mounting. In the past week, 53 barges, 25 harbor craft and 18 other enemy ships have been sunk or damaged and 97 enemy planes destroyed and 26 others probably destroyed.

On Bougainville—The counting of 1,173 Japanese dead after their unsuccessful attack on the Empress August bay beachhead, against a loss of only 123 American soldiers killed, demonstrates "the high technical skill and the battle courage which have now been developed by the American infantry soldier."

Aerial attacks on Germany—"The air battles over Germany are leaving signs of weariness among the German air force."

Plan Rites for Priest

CANTON, March 16.—Funeral services for the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward P. Graham, 81, author and Catholic leader who died yesterday, will be held Saturday with Bishop James A. McPadden of the Youngstown diocese as celebrant of the solemn mass.

Mgr. Graham was pastor of St. John's church here since 1922 and held pastorates at Antwerp and Sandusky. A former professor at St. Francis college in Quincy, Ill., he was made a monsignor in 1940.

Red Cross Fund Halfway

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 16.—This pottery city's Red Cross war fund campaign for a $40,500 quota passed the $21,500 mark yesterday as 2,000 volunteers began a house-to-house canvass to supplement solicitations in industrial plants and business houses.

Seek Worker's Attacker

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 16.—Police made an unsuccessful search yesterday for a suspect who allegedly fled with $600 in $50 bills after attacking and robbing Lady Coffman of Midland, Pa., a war industry employee.

BREAK WITH NAZIS, U. S. URGES FINNS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 16.—The United States joined Great Britain in a direct appeal to the Finnish people to end what President Roosevelt termed "this hateful partnership" in war with Nazi Germany.

A formal presidential statement was issued at the White House after Britain had urged the Finns to accept Soviet Russia's armistice terms or "court national disaster." This apparent last-minute effort to prevent complete collapse of Russo-Finnish peace negotiations, said in the President's name.

"It has always seemed odd to me and to the people of the United States to find Finland a partner of Nazi Germany, fighting side by side with the sworn enemies of our civilization."

"The Finnish people now have a chance to withdraw from this hateful partnership. The longer they stay at Germany's side the more sorrow and suffering is bound to come to them. I think I can speak for all Americans when I say that we sincerely hope Finland will now take the opportunity to dissociate herself from Germany."

In view of the Finnish parliament's vote yesterday, interpreted in Stockholm as tantamount to approval of the government's rejection of the Soviet terms, it was not immediately clear how Mr. Roosevelt hoped his peace appeal could be accomplished—whether through re-opening of armistice negotiations or through a popular demand on the part of the Finnish people which would be reflected through their government.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said he thought the reason for issuing the statement could be found in the last half of the last sentence, voicing a hope Finland now will sever ties with Germany.

American officials who have sought for almost three years to get Finland out of the war took a grave view of Helsinki's rejection of the Russian peace terms.

U. S. BOMBERS

nel to continue the onslaught by daylight.

Meanwhile Allied headquarters announced a two-way operation against Germany and her satellites with a heavy and medium bomber attack from Italy last night against Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, followed by a raid in force by RAF Wellingtons which rained two-ton blockbusters on that main junction in Hitler's Balkan rail network—now doubly vital for the German forces in Russia.

Dispatches from Naples said it was believed the railway was severed at least temporarily.

The record load of a single target—2,800 short tons—which was tossed on Berlin Feb. 15 may have been exceeded in the hammering of Stuttgart, a manufacturing center of ball bearings, Daimler-Benz engines and Bosch ignition and electrical appliances.

The force of 1,000 heavy bombers was exceeded by the United States armadas during the first of the all-out bombing effort the last week in February, but it was doubtful if the Americans' bomb load was as great as last night's, considering that the Eighth air force was making a long haul to eastern Germany.

Stuttgart, visited by six major attacks since the start of the war, also is one of Germany's most important railway junctions.

The German air force also was out during the night, dropping bombs at several places in south-east England and the home counties and giving London another alert, but no bombs fell in the capital and the British Press association said only two enemy planes reached the city's outskirts.

Capt. Johnson Bags 22nd Plane, Leads U. S. Aces

LONDON, March 16.—America's new ace of aces among European theater fighter pilots is Capt. Robert S. Johnson, 24, of Lawton, Okla., who bagged three enemy planes yesterday and sprang into the lead with 22.

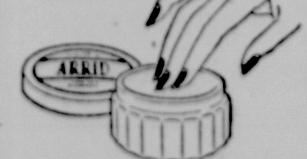

The three kills were all obtained on yesterday's raid on Brunswick.

Salem News Bowling Team Wins Women's City Tourney

EAGLES IN SECOND PLACE, 48 BEHIND TOP PRIZE WINNER

First Night Leader Drops To Fifth As Bowling Center Wins Third

The Salem News team of the Masonic Ladies League counted 2549 pins to claim first prize in the women's city handicap bowling tournament as the team event was concluded on the Masonic alleys last night.

The Eagles rolled into second place with 2501 and the Bowling Center five chalked up 2452 for third. Into fourth place went the Gems with 2426, forcing the Hillside team of Washingtonville, first night leader, into fifth. Hansells, with 2410, eight less than Hillside, finished sixth, the last prize position.

Tournament action will be resumed next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, when 33 sets of doubles and 59 singles will be rolled.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The Army sometimes does things to a guy—take Sgt. Lou Woods, for example, or Al Davis... Woods, just matched for a Chicago fight with Jake Lamotta, leading civilian middleweight, used to be one of those carefree kids who didn't have to work hard at his trade... Then the army made him boxing instructor at Camp Grant, Ill. He decided to learn more about boxing, with the result that he's a lot better ringman now... Davis was a kid with a terrific left hook and a reputation for being a rowdy fighter that was a source of pride to him... "Bummy" once was banned from New York rings for roughness but was allowed to return after the Army gave him a medical discharge... He still has a lethal left as he proved by stiffening Buster Beaupre and Bob Montgomery in less than three minutes of his last two fights... And those who have been watching him say the Davis who will fight Beau Jack tomorrow probably is a better boxing businessman than the old Davis.

Spring Training Camp Briefs

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 16.—Add Yankees, running Bill Dickey is passed intentionally, and Joe Gordon is coming up. The stage is set for a double play.

Which means the great catcher of the world champions was accepted for armed service yesterday and assigned to the Navy, and the star second baseman comes up for his physical today.

Other major league news: DETROIT TIGERS—Ervin (Pete) Fox donned his old Tiger uniform yesterday to unlimber a bit with the Detroit players before reporting for duty with the Boston Red Sox. He has been complaining of an arm injury.

BOSTON BRAVES—Bob Coleman, new pilot of the Braves, gets his first look at his 1944 talent. WASHINGTON SENATORS—The Nats may be warming up a dark horse for the hot corner, one Jake Powell, erstwhile outfielder. He looked good in a workout yesterday. PITTSBURGH PIRATES—The first Pirate casualty of the first day at the Muncie camp was Pitcher Max Butcher, who suffered a misplaced leg tendon.

NEW YORK GIANTS—With Relief Pitcher Ace Adams the only serious holdout, the Giants went through another three-hour workout at Lakewood, N. J.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS—Connie Mack can pick his team blindfolded. At least, he picked an infield yesterday while the squad again was idle because of wet grounds. He named Dick Siebert, 1b; Irv Hall, ss; Edgar Busch, 2b; from Elmira, 2b, and George Keil, from Lancaster, 3b.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX—The White Sox assembled 14 players.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of our beloved friend, M. Ruth Dunn, who passed away March 15, 1940.
She's up in Heaven, watching down
From the new world which she has found
She's watching everything we do
Enjoying life through me and you
She was called; her time had come
To leave this world and many a chum;
She left her life for us to live
And so, to our dear friend, each joy we give

THEATER
Susan Peters and Robert Taylor have the leading roles in "Song of Russia" which shows at the State tonight through Saturday.
The story deals with an American conductor on tour in Russia, and while he is on the tour he meets, falls in love with and marries Susan Peters, a peasant with great ambitions.
Comes the ruthless attack by the Nazis which almost dispels any hope the two lovers have of carrying on, until they realize they can do more for the cause of the Russian people by continuing their music in America and thus expose the cause for which all free thinking people are fighting. Robert Benchley plays the part of Taylor's agent and accompanies him on the tour.
In the story, "Charlie Chan in the Secret Service," billed at the Grand tonight, Friday and Saturday, along with "Gunsmoke Mesa," the inventor of a secret weapon for the government is murdered. Charlie Chan unravels the plot of the crime.
Some species of coral live alone, unlike the colony-minded one whose beaped up skeletons create islands in the Pacific.

Proportions Change As Child Grows

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE TRANSFORMATION of the human body from the proportions of the baby to that of the adult is a very remarkable study in arched lines. I mean the general contours.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

leaving aside the detailed growth of such structures as teeth, hair, eyes, genitals and viscera. If a human being grew to maturity maintaining the proportions of the baby we would regard him as a monster—all head and belly, little chest, stubby arms and legs.

It looks all right in a baby because it is natural. The baby's head is big because the brain cells are all laid down. They are not connected up yet, but they are all there and never will be added to or replaced. They are so precious that Nature is going to build a thick, solid, bony box around them to protect them. It protects the brain, but it also keeps it from growing, so it all has to be there in the first place.

The head in developing from baby to adult proportions increases twice its size, the trunk three times, the arms four times and the legs six times.

Most of the growth of the head is in the face, not the brain case. The proportions of the baby's head are from the eyebrows up—3; from the eyebrows to chin—2. The adults are just reversed: from eyebrows to vertex—2; from eyebrows to chin—3.

The trunk grows mostly at the expense of the abdomen. The baby is pot-bellied with a tiny chest, and this is another perfectly natural provision because the abdomen has all the digestive organs in it, and the baby must eat and digest an enormous amount of building material for the rapid growth of the early years of life. The baby does not have to have a very large heart because it hasn't such a large area to drive blood over. Nor do a baby's activities require such rapid changes in the amounts of oxygen, so the chest which contains heart and lungs is proportionately small.

The arms and legs remain short until muscular development begins and the requirements of walking and holding, picking up and putting down come to the fore.

Nature can usually be depended upon to do a good job of this intricate process of development, but all too often something goes wrong and there is a disproportionate adult. Some artificial aid is needed. I am particularly impressed with the need for directing good posture, both from the aesthetic and hygienic standpoints. The growing child can be taught to stand straight and walk straight and to sit, if not always necessarily straight, at least in positions which do not lead to permanent deformities.

Passive exercises such as the following in babyhood help normal development:

Exercise 1. Leg muscles. With the infant on his back, the mother's hands are placed about the soles of the feet; the legs are pushed up until the bent knees press gently against the abdomen; then the legs are straightened and returned to the table.

Exercise 2. Back Muscles. With the infant on his back, the legs are grasped above the ankles and raised to right angles at the hips; then the feet are brought to the face and returned to the table.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 16. — James F. Brownlee, OPA director in charge of prices, was called before the senate banking committee today to substantiate the agency's claim to the rating of a first class team that ought to be kept in the lineup against inflation.

Brownlee and other aides of Price Administrator Chester Bowles will testify on legislation to extend the agency a year beyond June 30.

DRAFT

Draft boards, it was disclosed today, have been urged to step up the induction of fathers and to seek out men now needlessly deferred in industry, as the two prime methods of meeting lagging draft quotas.

The plea was made by Draft Director Hershey in a letter to local boards.

SWIM

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) says he has abandoned his plan to provide that all fighting men must learn to swim. The War department has failed to give its approval. Bilbo incidentally, admits he can't swim more than 50 feet himself, and would "have to put on my bloomers to do that."

Grange To Plant Tree to Honor Members In Service

Midway grange has arranged a tree-planting ceremony for Arbor day when an evergreen tree will be planted on the grange grounds by the subordinate and juvenile granges in tribute to members serving in the armed forces.

Plans for the tree-planting rites were completed at a recent meeting.

The juvenile grange program, following the session, included: Vocal solo, "Don't Believe Everything You Dream," Joan Jackson; presentation of St. Patrick's day shamrock, containing funds earned by the juveniles, to Mrs. Cook, subordinate grange lecturer, who will attend a
